2nd Edition edits and additions

(all the following edits are described below in Concert pitch, unless exclusively referring to Bb instrument charts.)

Bossa Dorado – The Bb and TAB charts now correctly match the original editorial choices in the Concert, Standard Notation Only chart. This involved adjusting some notes in measures 2, and 4, and the turnarounds of the A sections. More importantly, now the Bb and TAB charts include Dorado Schmitt's melody for the bridge, which is different, but by no means more challenging, than the bridge melody commonly included in most fakebooks. Out of respect to Dorado Schmitt, there is now a chart in each version of the book with the tune in the original key of Eminor (F#minor for the Bb instrumentalists).

Djangology – Measure 3 of the A sections now has an F#. (There was an incorrectly written E natural.)

Douce Ambiance – The Bb instruments chart, in the A sections, now has a (C#dim7) where there had been an incorrectly written (Bdim7 chord). In the Bb Instruments chart, the F#7 chord and note, have been respelled as a Gb7 chord and note. In all charts, the A7 chord in the 2nd and 3rd A sections has been changed to an Amin7(b5). In the TAB chart, the fingering choices have been adjusted for the 2nd and 3rd endings.

Honeysuckle Rose – The Bb Instruments chart now has an (E7) at the end of the 1st and 2nd A sections where there had been a (D7). In the TAB chart, the TAB fingering for the D natural in bar 7 of the melody on the bridge is now present.

I'll See You in My Dreams – The Bb Instruments chart now has a (G7) in the pickup measure and bar 16, where there was an incorrectly notated (F7). In the TAB chart, the fingerings have been adjusted for bar 15. In all charts, in bar 26 on beat 4 there is now a D note, where there had been an A note, and in bar 28 there is an E note where there had been an F note.

It Had to be You – In the TAB chart, the suggested fingerings in the TAB have been modified throughout J'Attendrai – The parenthetical Dminor line cliché has been removed from the chord progression.

Je Suis Seul ce Soir - In the TAB chart the suggested fingerings in the TAB have been modified throughout Joseph Joseph (Modern Chart) – The melody in the last 12 bars has been altered. In a Jazz Manouche context, this part of the melody is usually improvised. The written melody here is only a loose suggestion.

Minor Blues – In measure 8, there is now a G note, where there had been an incorrectly written A note. The ornamental (Eb7) chord has been moved two beats later, to bar 10. Another set of turnaround chords has also been included. Django and many of the great Sinti players since ornament these 2 bars of D7 liberally, with chromatic movement from either direction. All notated chords are loose suggestions.

Nuages - In the Bb chart, there is now (Emin7) in bar 23 where there had been an incorrectly notated (Dmin7).

Troublant Bolero – In all the charts, the Intro's measure lengths have been corrected. In the TAB chart, the D# sharp note in Bar 17, in the bridge melody, is now correctly reflected in the TAB.

What is This Thing Called Love – In the TAB chart, the D natural in bar 23 was missing from the TAB, that has been corrected.

First section of the tune (measures 1-40). The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The section is marked with a circled 'A' and includes the following chords: B^bMAS, C7, B^bMAS, C7, B^bMAS, D7, E^b7, D7, and G^bMAS. The melody features eighth and sixteenth notes, with a triplet of eighth notes in measures 10, 20, and 30. Measure numbers 32, 36, and 40 are indicated at the start of their respective staves.

- When Django and Stephane played this tune, instead of ending the tune by playing the melody again, they would modulate to the key of E major and just play two A sections:

Second section of the tune (measures 41-61). The key signature changes to E major (three sharps). The section is marked with a circled 'A' and includes the following chords: G^bMAS, A7, G^bMAS, A7, G^bMAS, B7, C7, B7, B7/A, C7/G, B7/F#, B7, and E^bMAS. The melody continues with eighth and sixteenth notes, including triplet eighth notes in measures 44, 49, and 54. Measure numbers 44, 49, 53, 57, and 61 are indicated at the start of their respective staves. The section concludes with a double bar line and repeat dots.

-Editor's Note -

Hello, this is Jack from Django in June,

I want to make sure to say several things about this compilation of tunes before you dive in and start reviewing it.

- First, you can find video lessons for many of these tunes, on the Jack Soref Youtube channel, featuring not just me but the wonderful instrumentalists Jason Anick (violin), and Dallas Vietty (accordion).

- Second, many of the tunes, especially those that were once American popular songs e.g. 'Exactly Like You', 'I've Found a New Baby', 'Night and Day', 'Rose Room', are written with a simple version of the melody, that may be beholden, to the lyrics, or the original recording... not because a melody written this way yields the most musical results, but because it offers a “blank canvas” of sorts for you to use to embellish, abandon, or recompose the melody as you see fit. In any Jazz idiom, and Django's music is certainly no exception, it is incumbent on the melodist to interpret and alter the melody, and make it their own. Please, if you are learning any tune presented in this booklet, I implore you to listen to as many great recordings of it as you can. Use those recordings for inspiration and guidance, as much as, or more than, the charts here. If you have only learned the tunes below from a piece of sheet music, you have not learned the tune. (That may be an overstatement, but I think it's also a healthy way to approach this repertoire). Always, always go to the source, and listen to recordings by the many wonderful musicians who have recorded these tunes!

- Lastly, a couple of these tunes, like 'Are You in the Mood' or 'For Sephora' feature detailed introductions, or other subtle gestures transcribed directly from performances by the composers. If something looks intimidating, please rest assured, you are not required to play it just like it is on the sheet. In the case of 'Are You in the Mood' you don't need to play Grappelli's intro at all, and I think you will find, that rest of the tune is fun, and very accessible. In the case of 'For Sephora' listen to any performance by the Rosenberg Trio, and please feel comfortable approximating the introduction or coda however you see fit, ditto with the grace notes in the written melody. I wanted to include some of those details on the page, so that if a student is so inclined, they have a starting place for digging into some of the nuances that Stochelo often includes, (each performance is a little different), when he plays this melody. However, if any figure looks intimidating, don't feel beholden to replicating it exactly as written below.

Phew! Ok all that said, I hope this booklet, and the accompanying video lessons help enrich your time at Django in June. Thank you for being a part of our musical community, and happy practicing!

ROSE ROOM

H. WILLIAMS, A. HICKMAN

Editor's Note:

The melody, as written below, is inspired by Art Hickman's Orchestra's 1919 recording (in Ab major) but please, use this chart only as a jumping off point. Listen to Duke Ellington's 1932 recording, and Django & Stephane's 1937 recording, and others to inspire you as you develop your own interpretation of this classic tune.

SWING

The musical score for "Rose Room" is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat (Bb). The tempo/style is marked "SWING". The score consists of five staves of music, with measure numbers 5, 9, 13, and 17 indicated at the beginning of their respective staves. Chords are written above the staff lines.

Staff 1 (Measures 1-4): Chords: G7, C7, Fmaj7. The melody starts with a quarter rest, followed by a half note Bb, a quarter note A, and a quarter note G.

Staff 2 (Measures 5-8): Chords: F7, Bbmaj7. The melody continues with a quarter note F, a quarter note E, a quarter note D, and a quarter note C.

Staff 3 (Measures 9-12): Chords: Bbmin, Fmaj7, D7. The melody continues with a quarter note Bb, a quarter note A, a quarter note G, and a quarter note F.

Staff 4 (Measures 13-16): Chords: G7, C7. This section is marked with a first ending bracket. The melody continues with a quarter note E, a quarter note D, a quarter note C, and a quarter note Bb.

Staff 5 (Measures 17-20): Chords: G7, C7, Fmaj7. This section is marked with a second ending bracket. The melody continues with a quarter note A, a quarter note G, a quarter note F, and a quarter note E.

BEI DIR WAR ES IMMER SO SCHÖN

- The melody and harmony for this chart are informed by multiple sources.

The melody, as written below, comes from the version featuring Django with Fud Candrix's ensemble (originally in Eb major, with a solo from Django in Cmajor).

I would strongly encourage you not to phrase the melody as written, but to approach this lead sheet as a blank canvas, and explore the countless ways you can make this melody breathe.

For reference, listen to Biréli Lagrène or our faculty member Gwen Cahue's recordings of this tune (both in Gmajor like it is written below). The harmony, as written below, is informed a little by Django's, Biréli's, and Gwen's recordings.

T. MACKEBEN & H. BECKMAN

Handwritten musical score for "Bei Dir War Es Immer So Schön" in G major, 4/4 time. The score consists of 10 staves of music with various chords and melodic lines. Chords include C major, C minor, G major, G/B, B^bdim7, A minor, D7, B minor, E7, B minor with F# (Bmin/F#), E minor, A minor, B7, E minor, E minor with C major (Emin(Cmaj7)), E minor, G7, C major, C minor, G/B, B^bdim7, A minor, D7, G major, C minor, and G major. The melody features many triplets and slurs. The score is numbered 5, 9, 13, 17, 21, and 25 at the beginning of each staff.

*Depending on the player, this chord has been interpreted differently. The Eb7 and Bdim7 options are, in many ways expressions of the same chord, (the Gmin6 less so). Try to listen to those you are playing with to discern what is appropriate for the present moment.

- Past the first 8 measures, this melody is meant to be improvised. As a guide for your own improvisation, included below is an undetailed transcription of what Grappelli played on this tune on 01/31/1938.

- The written melody for this tune is inspired by Mr. Ferret's vocal performance from the album Ou Welto Risella. Naturally, there are slight variations in pitch and rhythm each A section.e.g. the last note, of the 3rd bar, of the first A section, I believe, is a G natural... but because it's an E natural on every other A section, it is notated as such. Like always, to get a more complete understanding of this song, listen to as many versions as you can!

- This is the same chart but transposed up a fourth. If you are just jamming on this tune, you do not need to perform this modulation. However, in honor of our visiting artists, Fapy, Tcha, Dave, and Vilmos, who modulate this way as part of their arrangement of this tune, we are including the tune in both keys. To implement this modulation, play measures 43 & 44 in place of the 2nd ending at the bottom of the previous page.
